

MUFTI DAY

Friday 25th November 2016

Mufti Day is Friday 25th November. The theme for this day is Red and Green. In return for this privilege, we ask the KS1 children (reception - year 2) for Jolly Jar donations to be brought in for the Christmas Fair, and KS2 children (year 3 - year 6) bring in Chocolate donations.

KS1:

The 'Jolly Jars' stall is very popular and gives the children a chance to win a glass jar filled with goodies.

We would like the children to 'donate' a filled glass jar for Mufti Day. The size of the jar is optional, but needs to be see-through (please remove any labels) and have a lid (jam jars or pasta sauce jars are ideal).

Contents could include wrapped sweets or chocolates (NO NUTS PLEASE), hair bobbles, stickers, small toys, pencil sharpeners, note pads, nail varnish, bouncy balls - any small items that a child would like to win (please check that anything edible is in a wrapper and in sell-by date and that items are new/unused). The children could decorate their jars with a Christmas theme if they wish.

If you are unable to fill a jar, a donation of £1 could be brought in on Mufti Day and we will use it to fill the jar on your behalf - however, we do hope most children will provide a filled jar.

KS2:

Chocolate Donations will be used on our ever-popular "Willy Wonka's Golden Tickets" (chocolate tombola).

Some suggestions could include: Boxes/bags of chocolates, novelty chocolate items, tins of sweets, chocolate filled stockings, bars of chocolate. (NO NUTS PLEASE)

Please bring your donations into school on Friday 25th November. There will be collection points for the children to leave their chocolates/sweets.

Please check that items are in sell-by date and are unopened.

Thank you,

Shonal Patel
